Fall Festival 2013

by President/Festival Director, Mike Van Demark

I have received many emails and Facebook comments that our 25th Anniversary Festival was the best ever. We all had a great time and we had more jamming this year with a lot of "toes tapping." Everyone seemed to get in the "swing" of things really well! The faculty and vendors were very happy with their sales. The concerts were great and stayed on time and lastly every workshop I walked into was at capacity and no one was walking the halls during workshops. I guess it was a great festival. We even saw "Bears" hanging around the lodge!!!

I had great help with the festival this year with Judy Bailey and Sally Long assisting me again with the registration packets along with my wife, Carolyn, who filled in as Customer Support to answer a lot of telephone calls received during the registration process. Once again I want to thank Millie Chaplin for handling the faculty vending table with her volunteers. This is a really big job to make sure that all the faculty inventory is accounted for and correctly paid out to the faculty at the end of the festival. Sally Long once again organized and set up the "Outside Vendors," which is also very important and large job starting in the middle of the year by contacting the vendors. I want to thank Lynn McCollum for lining up all of the volunteers who assist during the festival in many ways. I would like to give special thanks to Frank Kenny who has been a really big help over the past few years at the Faculty Vending table while his wife takes part in the workshops. He runs around usually looking for me to get answers to questions among many other things with a smile. It does take a "village" to plan and execute an event like this and I

Mistletoe Jam

Christmas is almost here and after Christmas is the usual letdown from all the hustle and bustle. You can cure that by coming to the Mistletoe Jam, held at Mistletoe State Park, Appling, Georgia for Martin Luther King weekend, January 18, 19 and 20. Cabins and campsites are available or if you want to stay in Thomson, about 15 miles away, there are several new motels including a new Hampton Inn. If you would like to stay in a cabin at the park I suggest you make reservations now. The cabins are really nice with four double beds in two bedrooms. Sites 1-5 have a bathroom for each bedroom and 6 through 10 one shared bath. One or two cabins are pet friendly for an added fee. Cable TV, fireplace and complete kitchen.

The group shelter has been reserved with a kitchen and will be nice and warm, so don't worry about the weather. Everyone had a really nice turn-out last year with just about every kind of instrument you can think of and a good time was had by all. There will be a pot luck supper on Saturday and the last couple of years we even had an impromptu shared lunch that had plenty of food for all. Coffee and light breakfast will be served Saturday morning. The coffee pot will be on for the early birds who like to come on Friday evening.

Looking forward to a great turnout again this year. If you're planning on coming, it would be a great help if you can e-mail me at bfleming7823@comcast.net a week or two before and let me know how many will be attending.

Take care and keep strummin'.

thank all of you who volunteered and participated in this years' festival.

We had a great attendance this year with 240 participants and I think that should be our maximum capacity for the future. I do not want to overcrowd our meeting rooms. All of the Unicoi Lodging Rooms were filled and we met our 350 room night requirement for next year's pricing. Yes we saw a lot of changes at Unicoi this year with food and I thought it went very well considering we were the first large group they had to use all of the food venues at the same time. Unicoi did an outstanding job!

Next year you will see further improvements with lodging rooms being totally remodeled and other areas of the lodge being revamped.

I hope all of you had time to review your workshops and complete the "Festival Evaluation". If you did not complete the evaluation please do so and email a copy to me at mvandem@gmail.com. These evaluations are invaluable to festival planners in that we use them to hire future faculty and also discuss facility comments with Unicoi.

Our 2014 Festival is scheduled for November 20 through 23 and you should be able to start making your reservations at Unicoi beginning in January if not sooner.

Now I'm going to take a month or so off and enjoy the holidays and will be back in touch with all of you in January. I do appreciate all of the support I get from the NGFDA members and will work hard to be a great president for the club. Once again I will be directing the festival

About The Tablature . . .

This month's tab is a two-part arrangement of one of the most recognized songs from the 50th state, Hawaii, "Aloha Oe". I thought that since I will be in Hawaii for an extended period of time, it might be nice to include this arrangement by Tull Glazener.

The song was composed by Queen Lili'uokalani, the last of Hawaii's ruling monarchs, in 1877. Queen Lili'uokalani began studying music at an early age and would go on to write over 160 poetic melodies and chants, including one of the four Hawaiian National Anthems. Through her music and lyrics she expressed her feelings about Hawaii and its people. "Aloha Oe" is actually a love song, and tells the tale of two lovers as they reluctantly depart.

The tune of the verse resembles "The Rock Beside the Sea", composed by Charles Crozat Converse and published in Philadephia, 1857. The melody of the chorus is remarkably close to the chorus of George Frederick Root's composition, "There's Music In The Air", published in 1854. There is a manuscript of "Aloha Oe" in Queen Lili'uokalani's handwriting in the Bishop Museum in Hawaii..

This arrangement can be heard on youtube at http://www.youtube.com/watch?v=B222Egh-5GU.

Tull Glazener has been sharing the music of the mountain dulcimer since 1984. He has performed and led workshops throughout the mid-west and south. Tull enjoys arranging aires, waltzes, ragtime, traditional, old-time, contemporary, classical, and jazz for the mountain dulcimer. Tull is also one of the performers on Susan Trump's Masters of the Mountain Dulcimer series (Volumes 1 and 3). He has produced five recordings, is the author of four instruction/tab books, and has been a featured columnist for Dulcimer Players News. His latest project has been producing a series of learn-at-home workshop/teaching CDs.

Dulcimer Christmas Revival in Cornelia, Georgia

On Saturday, December 7, at The First Presbyterian Church, 469 N. Main Street, Cornelia, Georgia, Stephen Seifert will spend a full day with Georgia area dulcimer players bringing them up-to-speed on a number of Christmas classics to prepare them for the upcoming holiday season. Think of it as a Christmas workout with lots of playing tips. Cost is $55 per participant for the entire day. When the family asks how your dulcimer playing is coming along, answer by playing well something they know and like.

Expect to cover a good number of Christmas favorites. For each tune, Stephen will have ready multiple arrangements appropriate for the different levels, beginner through upper intermediate. Christmas music can be a bit challenging so Stephen's ready with just the right tunes, techniques, and shortcuts. Although this stuff is great for group playing, the goal is great music for singles and duets. He'll also prepare you to play the backup chords incase the folks you're playing for want to sing some verses.

There will be a strict 5-minute stand-up break for every 25 minutes of study to keep people fresh and alert. Stephen will also record a short summary video at the end of each workshop topic and email links to the videos to all participants. I want to make sure everyone knows what to practice when they get home.

Stephen has been playing the mountain dulcimer since 1991. He has toured with David Schnaufer, performed with orchestras around the country, and been a featured performer in Japan. Since 1996, he has taught and performed at festivals and dulcimer clubs in Los Angeles, Detroit, New York, Pensacola, Houston, and many places in-between.

"I want to play all styles of music on the mountain dulcimer. I also want to help my fellow dulcimer players pursue their musical desires, whatever they might be, with the least amount of time-wasting detours."

Most recently, he has been teaching hundreds of students around the world via http://dulcimerschool.com. He loves Christmas music and performs it as much as possible every holiday season. Learn more about him by visiting http://stephenseifert.com.

Contact person is Lynn McCollum, leader of the Yonah Pickers, 706-499-3212 or lynnmccollum@windstream.net. Please RSVP for food purposes by December 1. Also please bring your check made out to Stephen Seifert with you.

Land of Waterfalls Dulcimer Club

The Land of Waterfalls Dulcimer Group meets weekly and on the fourth Wednesday of each month the groups plays for two senior citizen groups in the Brevard area. In addition to practicing new music for the monthly performances, the group likes to introduce new music as well as letting members share their recent workshop experiences and other interesting dulcimer news. At a recent November meeting Harry Sherwood came a little early to offer help with learning how to change strings. It was quite informative to many of the newest players. Diane Hutchings and Ann Brown are shown in the photo as Harry explains how to change strings.

The group is fortunate to welcome new members Cyndie Waterman and Cathy Reiner. Both are experienced dulcimer players. Cyndie also plays the bass and hammered dulcimer and Cathy plays the mandolin as well. The group is excited to have these talented ladies join and offer new instruments as well.

Frettin' On Faith

November found the Frettin' On Faith "fretters" busy with "Farmhouse Christmas" again this year. The group did a 35-minute set as diners were escorted to their seats awaiting the evening meal and entertainment. Two of the group, Michael and Jean Whitfield, performed a duet on their dulcimers with the song, "Star In the East," set in the E minor key and all seemed to enjoy the song and presentation. The group is taking a break during December unless someone is in dire need of a dulcimer group during the Holidays. Plans to rev back up full force in January are already set in motion. To see what the group is up to you can always visit it's website at the following address: www.frettinonfaith.com as well as send an email, contribute a recipe and a lot of other things going on there. A good list of makers and players of the dulcimer are listed on the site also. May God Bless all the NGFDA and folks affiliated with it this season. As we say here in Ringgold, "keep on frettin' . . ."

Dulcimer Troupers

Dulcimer Troupers get together at NGFDA Fall Festival

In early November the Dulcimer Troupers played at LaGrange Hospice as family members and friends gathered to remember loved ones who died at the facility in the preceding six months. The dulcimers, playing ensemble parts, were accompanied by guitar, recorder, and psaltery at the beautiful and meaningful ceremony. The Troupers have played at the Hospice memorial ceremony twice a year for 15 years.

Thirteen Dulcimer Troupers attended the NGFDA Fall Festival at Unicoi. Some of these players have been to the event every year of the 15 years since the Troupers' group was formed. Here are some of the Troupers' comments at the end of the festival:

"The festival was filled with fantastic music, sweet fellowship and great inspiration!"

"There was an amazing array of workshops to fit each playing level."

"Met so many interesting people and loved the nightly concerts."

Each year the Troupers begin preparing Christmas songs in July. The first two weeks in December they will share this music with five with nursing homes and assisted living facilities and the women's group at LaGrange First Presbyterian Church. In addition, the six members of the Trouper Ladies' Ensemble will play programs at a garden club in Columbus, LaGrange Woman's Club, and LaGrange First United Methodist Church. After this whirlwind tour, the group will rest and enjoy Christmas with their families and meet again on January 9.

Hilltop Strummers

The Hilltop Strummers welcome Jennell Bryan as our Satellite group leader. Barbara and Dan Asperger have stepped aside from the daily duties of organizing, planning and leading the group but will continue to play their beautiful music with us. The Aspergers along with Jennell founded the Hilltop Strummers in 2008. Since that first meeting, the group has grown to 42 members on our roster. Barbara and Dan dedicated much of their life during the past five years providing lessons to beginners, performance opportunities for the group, and overall growth of the group.

Jennell Bryan is the Director of Senior Adult Ministries at the Canton First United Methodist Church in Canton, Georgia, which also happens to be the home of the Hilltop Strummers. Jennell is a very compassionate person and a strong leader with the adult ministries. Hilltop Strummers welcomes her as our Hilltop Strummers leader.

The Hilltop Strummers are blessed in a number of other ways. Two years ago, October 13, Patsy Jordan, who played guitar with the Hilltop Strummers, offered to teach some of our members how to play the Hammered Dulcimer. She has moved us from 'very beginner' to 'intermediate plus' status in a very short period of time with her wonderful teaching skills and tons of patience.

The Hilltop Strummers also have a 12-piece "Hilltop String Band" under the leadership of Tommy Armstrong. Tommy keeps us in line and working hard with new music and playing opportunities. The String Band is scheduled to play 'special music' at CFUMC early service every other month in addition to other 'gigs'.

The Hilltop Strummers meet every Tuesday at Canton First UMC at 12 noon. The "early group" meets in one room to practice and help new members. Dee Ogletree, Marsha Elliott and Deanie Fincher are co-leaders. The 'combined' groups meet at 1:30 and visitors are welcome.

The Hilltop Strummers performances include, and are not limited to, local assisted living homes and craft shows. The group has been invited to perform again at Gibbs Gardens in Ball Ground, Georgia for two weekend performances in 2014.

At least 21 people from the Hilltop Strummers attended the NGFDA Fall Festival at Unicoi this year. Everyone learned many new 'licks' from a large list of talented instructors. Thank you NGFDA for a great festival.

You can keep up with our group by going to the web site at www.hilltopstrummers.com. Marsha Elliott, one of the members, designed and maintains our web site for the Satellite.

Yonah Pickers

The Yonah Pickers have enjoyed a month of productive practices, wonderful performances, and great fun at Unicoi. The group enjoyed a special performance for the Woodmen of the World early in the month. This performance was the first time some of the members of the beginners group had joined in for a performance. The Woodmen of the World also provided a wonderful dinner in which the group was included. The Lavender Cottage in Sautee-Nacoochee invited the group to participate in the "Christmas Arts Tour." The day resulted in lots of fun and a new member joining the group. One of the senior center performances coincided with a special day of desserts. The members of YP enjoyed providing the music as the seniors joined joyfully in a sing along. Both groups enjoyed the desserts!

The group is working to develop their Christmas repertoire for the upcoming month and has found several very beautiful versions of Christmas classics.

Looking forward to next month, the group will be welcoming Stephen Seifert, for a one day workshop on December 7. Please contact Lynn McCollum for more info: lynnmccollum@windstream.net. The group is also looking forward to lots of fun Christmas performances!! For information about anything in the article please contact: bswhitmire@windstream.net.

but I would like to find a volunteer who would like to take over the festival planning for 2015. If you are interested in working with me in 2014 and then taking the festival over in 2015 please contact me at mvandem@gmail.com

Remember if you don't need a hard copy of the newsletter sent to you via US Postal Service please contact me or Lynn McCollum so we can change the delivery method. The money we save by not having to print and not purchasing postage can be used to supplement future events thus keeping costs down for all of the participants. We are spending approximately $1.00 per newsletter (currently 175.00) plus the time each month to send hard copies. We can email your newsletter or you can retrieve your newsletter by going to www.ngfda.org and using your email address to log in on the newsletter tab. The newsletters and tab can be printed at your leisure or you can save paper by reading the newsletter and then print just the "Tab" for use.

I wish you all a Safe and Happy Holiday Season and a Very Happy and Prosperous New Year!!
